Soon themorn- ing sun will rise, and dawn will bathe the sky There's shared our stor - ies, yours and mine, we've shared our hopes and fears With ev - er turn - ing fate- ful wheel must cause our ways to part And end - ingsnew be - ginn- ings rise, from old shall come the new With time for just this part - ing song be - fore we say good - bye So mem - or - ies of dis - tant youth we've all rolled back the years bring - ing un - told mys - ter - ies a - both - er day will start hope for great - er things to come we'll see our part - ing through sing to - ge - ther one and all, and raise a glass of wine Here's Hop - ing we shal meet a - gain, a - long the road of time We've
